A New Romsey Tanker 'A' !!!

Romsey Fire Brigade will be replacing its oldest tanker during 1991.

Recently we approached the Country Fire Authority regarding financial assistance toward the replacement tanker. We will know whether our approach is successful later this year.

Do we need a Replacement Tanker?

Yes. Our oldest tanker will not receive C.F.A. maintenance support after 1991 because they consider that it will be too old.

With the major population growth within the Romsey area, a much more capable tanker is required, especially in the case of structure fires and road accidents.

Can we Afford a Replacement Tanker?

Yes. The Brigade has determined the cost to be approximately $40,000.

Already we have raised over $30,000 towards this purchase. We need to raise a further $10,000 in the next 12 months.

How Can You Help?

Please support our fund-raising activities.

Next Saturday morning we will be conducting a raffle in the shopping centre.

Please support this activity.

COBAW COMMUNITY HEALTH SERVICE

Preparation for childbirth and parenting classes will be starting in September at the St. Mary's Hall Romsey. Classes are designed for you and your partner, or support person.

For more information contact Chris Gyner on 22 3011.

BABY SAFETY RESTRAINTS

The Shire currently hires out Baby Safety Capsules, Baby commuters and Safety-Swingkr Bassinets. The hire cost is $20.00 fee and $20.00 deposit. This amount is payable when you pick up the restraint. Don't forget to book early so you don't miss out. For more information or to book a restraint contact Kerrie Reardon k at the Shire Offices on 1295 201.

CHILD CARE SAFETY

Next term a questionnaire will be distributed to families who have children attending kindergartens, primary schools or playgroups. A variety of information will be required such as whether or not they are using the child care services which are currently provided and their thoughts on these. The aim is to determine whether or not the current child care services are catering for the needs of the Community.

I would be interested in any comments anyone has to make on this issue.

DOMINANT HOUSEHOLD CLEANING PRODUCTS

Firstly, I'd like to introduce myself. My name is Kathleen Matthies. I'm married with two children and have lived in Romsey for three and a half years. What is DOMINANT? DOMINANT is a range of concentrated household cleaning products which when used in place of supermarket brands can save your household cleaning budget $350 - $500 per year. DOMINANT is a fully Australian owned company so no profits go overseas. All DOMINANT products are environmentally safe and bio-degradable. They are made in South Australia and are made to suit Australian conditions.

If you are interested to learn more about the DOMINANT range, give me a call on 295915.

THE ROMSEY RAMBLER

A recent report (passed on by a concerned member of the Historical Society) suggests that there is an application abroad for the demolition of the former National Bank building. If that is the case the community should decisively indicate its displeasure. This column has always stood for the preservation of the Romsey streetscape. Also, Cr. David Mitchell's 'Keep Romsey Rural' campaign (which surely has general community support) would appear to uphold the same principle. Therefore, be prepared! Urge all three Riding Councillors to ensure that Council acts in accordance with the will of the people to preserve our attractive heritage. The building appears to be sound. It must also be useful.

A similar concern for the Post Office has seen a petition circulated for its retention. The Rambler believes that the building should be retained. But, as has been suggested previously, the volume of business may have outgrown the present premises. Perhaps there is a better solution than the proposal to move to the new complex. It would seem to be a crowded venue for the sort of movement that passes Ron Cole's counter. Is it too late for some other alternative?

Former Romsey (really Springfield) resident, Peter Clement, was married in Perth on Sunday 8th July. Romsey friends will wish Candy and Peter every happiness. There was quite an exodus of members of the Clement Clan to share in the celebrations.

It has been good to see Megan Newnham about the town looking more like her old self. Megan has a most distressing twelve months or so. However, that seems to be behind her and her friendly smile has regained its warmth.

On Wednesday August 1st, the Elders' Council of the Uniting Church will hold an open meeting TO WHICH ALL INTERESTED PEOPLE ARE INVITED. The meeting will be addressed by Rev. Alan Hardie, the Uniting Church A.I.D.S. Education Officer, and Miss Merin Grey, a youth worker with the Order of St. Stephen. They will tell about the A.I.D.S. Education Project. Miss Grey is keen to contact youth groups on the subject.

COUNCIL NEWS

Throughout Victoria on the first Saturday every August, Local Government Elections (if required) are held. This year it is Saturday August 4th. Geoff NEIL is the Romsey Riding Councillor due for re-election. He has nominated for a further term. Nominations close at 4pm on Wednesday July 11th at Shire Office.

On Wednesday June 27th, a special Council Meeting was convened to determine the future growth of the Shire in light of the HARATSIS report. At 6pm that evening, Councillors were given a summary sheet on submissions received. This sheet also stated that "from a strategy point of view, the submissions suggest a compromise could be workable. The compromise would be as follows:

- low growth option in Riddells Creek and Lancefield,
- limited growth in Bolinda and Monegeetta,
- growth in Romsey,
- restructure hobby farm zones and rural residential zones to achieve maximum environmental amenity"

This could be thought of as a third option, and to gain public opinion it was decided not to finalise the matter until July 11th and give residents and landowners a chance to comment. It was hoped that with local press assistance, people would become aware that further submissions are requested. In any event, it is important that the matter be finalized prior to elections.

Planning approval was given for a shop/warehouse north of Five Mile Creek on the west of Main Street. Council refuse applications for a two lot sub-division at the north end of Wrixon Street, and a Childcare Centre intersection of Barry Street with Metcalfe Drive. Negotiations with the applicant for the Childcare Centre are ongoing as we believe the facility is one the town needs and alternative locations are available. Streetworks on Old Farm Way/Bowkett Close are proceeding. A primer seal has been put down with a final seal/completion early next year. Murphy Street, between Williams Street and Rogers Street has received an improved sand pavement and will be sealed early next year after some rework. Tenders to complete the Main Street footpath (between Kathryn Street and White Avenue) have been deferred pending a sub-division application.

The proposed name of the short street between Main Street and Station Street is Grant Terrace. Apparently Mr GRANT was the longest serving, if not last, Station Master at Romsey. Council will contact the Historical Society for their comment. The Ranger has reported he is checking properties for unregistered dogs. A late fee of $75 will be imposed with registration costs. Failure to register when directed will add another $200. Twenty-six sheep were attacked recently in Stranges Road. Five sheep were killed outright, 12 required destruction and 9, with treatment, may survive. Lambing has begun in some areas and owners of dogs found straying face heavy fines and/or compensation and/or a dead dog if it is located in the wrong place. Chevrons signs are to be placed opposite streets intersection Main Street south of the town, to indicate to people that they are approaching/at an intersection. Night-time visibility is poor.

Residents were quick to pick-up the alterations to speed zones around the town, especially Main Street, Melbourne side. Urgent discussions between the Riding and Shire Engineers Department resulted in Vic Roads personnel attending on Thursday 21st June and agreeing to extend the 60 zone to 20 metres south of White Avenue. They were not prepared to go further. This is an overall extension from where it previously commenced, north of Regan Drive. Council has also written requesting urgent linemarking be done on Melbourne - Lancefield Road where re-sealing etc. has taken place. Finally, someone has nicked the Shire dog trap. Cost of replacement is $138. Til next time,

Where are all the ladies that signed a form to say that we needed a Weight Watchers group in Romsey and that they would attend if one was opened? People want services in the community but when they are opened these people seem to disappear. I committed myself to being trained as a lecturer last year because people said that they wanted a class in Romsey, but before one could be opened they needed a lecturer. For six weeks I drove to Melbourne with a 3 month old baby to train to provide this service (at my own expense). At the moment we have only approximately four people from Romsey attending, the rest of the class travel from Gisborne, Woodend, Lancefield, Pyalong and further. Unfortunately if the number does not increase in Romsey, then the class will be transferred to Woodend where there is a higher demand. Winter is a great time to lose weight, why don't you shed your weight now before spring and summer are upon us. We welcome men and teenagers as well as women. Any past members who would like to rejoin are also most welcome. - GAYLE RYAN, Uniting Church Hall, Pohlman Street, &.00pm Thursday.

Our next mens breakfast will be held at the Monegetta Tea Rooms on Saturday morning 11th August. Guest speaker will be Robin Johnson for Living Life Ministries International. Plant Classification & Evolution Pt. 1. Whether the Story of Creation as a "balance" to the Theory of Evolution should be taught in schools as proposed by some writers, I leave to the judgement of others. Nevertheless, as any keen nature observer will testify, there is often considerable diversity within a species and many affinities between species and hence much dissent among scientists as to where one species ends and another begins - especially within the Plant Kingdom - one of the reasons for many of the name changes which so confuse the lay person. For this reason, it is not always possible to define a species with absolute precision. Unfortunately, the classification of living organisms into species, genera, families etc. up the scale, is merely a convenient and arbitrary device to facilitate international understanding between scientists and other interested individuals, established by Carl von Linne (1707-78), to which plants and animals have sometimes declined to conform. This is of course, not the only reason for name changes. In some cases plants have been brought into cultivation under a name given in ignorance of an earlier given name, in which case the law of priority must be adhered to. Errors, omissions, misspellings, wrong identifications and other valid reasons as outlined in the Botanical Code often account for others. While in many cases, obvious physical characters will enable even a lay person to readily identify a species, this is not always the case and the criteria required to distinguish one species from another similar species may require the use of a microscope. After all, many genes are common to many species, including vastly different forms of life - a strong argument in support of the Theory of Evolution - a brief account of which will be found in "Nature's Jumping Genes" by Lowell Ponte in Readers Digest, March 1988. - Syd Wheller.

The proposal has the full support of the current membership & the Committee are particularly confident regarding this proposal.
